Red Defector Gets Asylum, Is Now in U.S.

Soviet Official Fails To Shake Nosenko's Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. government is granting asylum to Soviet secret police defector Yuri I. Nosenko in a case still carrying overtones of a spy thriller.

The State Department unraveled some of the mystery with a pair of announcements Friday. In the first U.S. comment since last Monday's disclosure that Nosenko, who had disappeared from the Soviet disarmament delegation at Geneva Feb. 4, had asked for political asylum in America, press officer Richard L. Phillips revealed that:

1. Nosenko now is in Washington, though his exact whereabouts remains a secret.

2. The Russians demanded an interview with Nosenko in a note Wednesday, and were granted it Friday. A Soviet Embassy representative talked to Nosenko for less than an hour, and Nosenko "reconfirmed his desire for asylum."

3. A Swiss Embassy representative also questioned Nosenko separately for less than an hour and got the same answer. A State Department representative sat in on both interrogations.

4. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko called in U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler in Moscow and delivered a stiff oral protest to what Gromyko called "improper behavior" by the United States in the case. But the Russians have not accused the United States of kidnapping and have not threatened to pull out of the disarmament conference at Geneva.

A Soviet Embassy spokesman confirmed the interview with Nosenko but declined comment. The Swiss Embassy also acknowledged having seen Nosenko and said its representative had been told by the Russian that he wanted refuge in the United States.

Phillips said the United States is "prepared to give him asylum" and had sent the Soviet Union a note replying to their Wednesday inquiry "as to the manner in which Mr. Nosenko presented himself to U.S. authorities."

The State Department spokesman said there would be no further announcement, and he declined to say when Nosenko might be surfaced to public view.

Still under wraps were how Nosenko defected, how he got to the United States, and what secrets he might have passed on to U.S. intelligence.

From the fuss Moscow has made over his disappearance there was speculation that the West had gained a notable prize in the continuing undercover contest of the cold war.

Nosenko, 36, was ostensibly a low-ranking member of the Soviet delegation at the disarmament parley. Actually, according to U.S. sources he is a staff officer of the Soviet KGB secret police apparatus.

This presumably put him in a position to know about the workings of the secret police setup and the Soviet strategy at the Geneva conference.

Uniontown Bank Is Robbed Again

UNIONTOWN, Ohio (AP) — "Fill it up just like the last time," said a gunman to two women tellers.

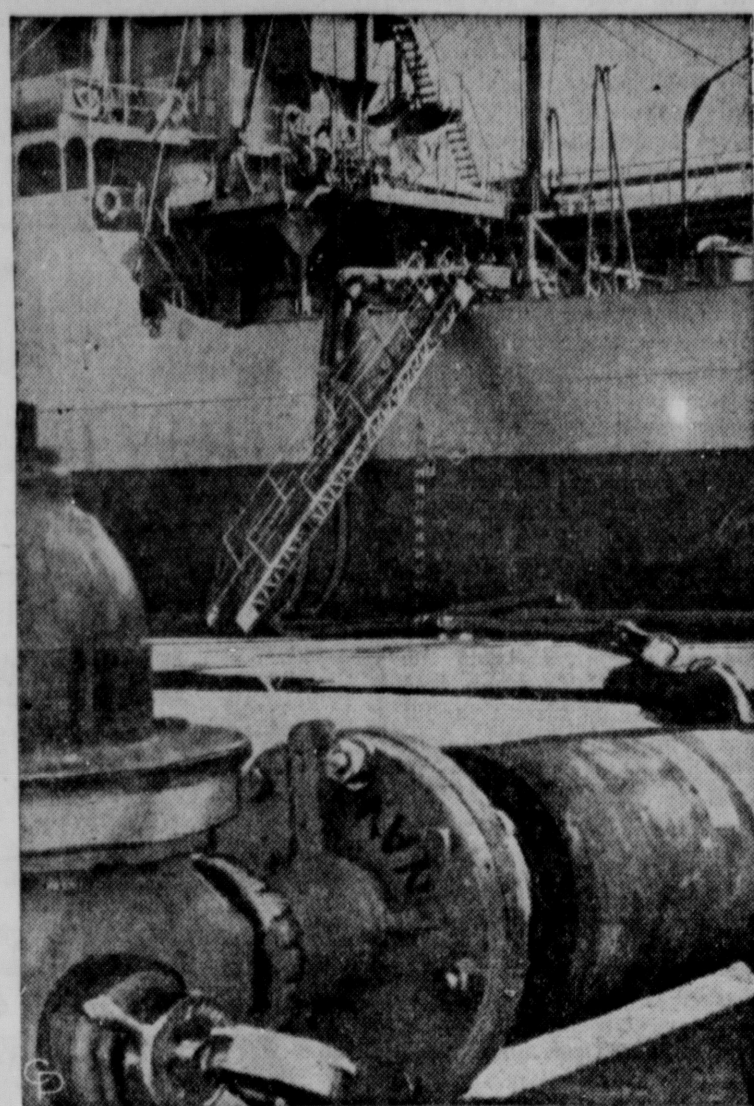

The tellers believe the same man robbed the Uniontown branch of the Akron Savings & Loan Association twice in two weeks.

A robber with a long-barreled revolver fled Friday carrying an estimated $3,700 in a brown paper bag. Just 11 days ago a gunman escaped with $7,400.

"We are sure it was the same guy. . . His appearance and the description are similar," said Donald Nixon, assistant vice president of the savings firm.

100,000 St. Louisans Turn Out for Johnson

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—More than 100,000 cheering, waving St. Louisans, and 88 civil rights demonstrators, turned out Friday as President Johnson attended the city's 200th birthday celebration.

Police intercepted the demonstrators, took them to headquarters and ordered them home. Later a man with a loaded .32-caliber pistol was apprehended at Lambert-St. Louis Municipal Airport where the presidential plane was parked. He was held for questioning.

Otherwise the President's trip to St. Louis was uneventful. The weather was cool but sunny. He shook hands, planted a tree, toured part of the city and named Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinals baseball great, director of the President's physical fitness program.

The President was greeted by an estimated total of 2,500 people at the airport on his arrival. They broke into cheers as he walked along the wire fence shaking extended hands.

Thousands more spectators lined multilaned Mark Twain Expressway to watch the presidential motorcade. Many of the watchers were children.

Downtown President Johnson inspected the unfinished gateway arch on the Mississippi riverfront.

Then, through crowd-thronged city streets, the motorcade went to a slum clearance project near St. Louis University.

In a brief speech to 5,000 students and others, the President waved his hand at a nearby university and declared: "The St. Louis area draws its strength from its fine college and universities."

He drew a laugh when he said "I've been aware of the importance of St. Louis since I was a small boy and wore my first pair of Buster Brown shoes."

St. Louis is a shoe manufacturing center.

In his principal address to an overflow crowd of 2,100 at a hotel Friday night, President Johnson said he welcomes "fair discussion of honest differences" both at home and abroad.

He took a swing at critics in the United States and overseas who he said "seek political gain from baseless denunciation of the United States."

On the civil rights question he said, "We cannot secure the success of freedom around the world if it is not secure for all citizens in our cities."

The nation's military strength he said, enables Americans to meet each new crisis "from West Berlin to Cuba with both courage and calm."

3 Children Die as Fire Sweeps Home

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three young children died early today in a residential fire in Columbus' near northeast section.

They were children of Herschel Hodge, 29, and his wife, Alma, 31.

Authorities listed the victims as a stepson, Charles Lee Thomas Jr., 11; Harold Hodge, 8, and his sister Alice, 7.

Police and firemen said both parents were out at the time of the fire—and were found in a tavern. The couple were ordered to the Juvenile Bureau this morning for questioning.

Officials said the fire began in the downstairs apartment of Ruben Woods. Woods was asleep on a couch when one of his children awakened him. He tried to douse the fire without success, then called firemen.

Woods said he wasn't able to get upstairs because of flames and smoke.

Authorities said Hodge and a previous wife lost two children in a fire in 1955.

Protest Filed Against Taft

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Raymond V. Dennis, a Columbus Republican, filed a protest with Secretary of State Ted W. Brown today to the "validity of the declarations of candidacy" of GOP senatorial candidate Robert Taft Jr.

The grounds alleged for the filing of the protest against the Cincinnati congressman — at large are:

—That Taft made his declarations of candidacy before more than one notary public in violation of state law.

—That changes had been made in the date and location of the execution of the petition signing.

Dennis, a restaurant operator, asked that since the senatorial post "is second only to that of the office of the President," Brown make "a full and exhaustive hearing to determine the validity of the grounds for the protest." He added he was checking into "other possible irregularities."

Brown, who himself seeks the Republican senatorial nomination, has been checking out Taft's petitions for a number of days.

Brown said he would hold a hearing Tuesday at which time Dennis, Taft and the latter's aides could present claims.

Aides in Brown's office speculated that the protest might be followed by court action.

Brown has until next Thursday to certify candidates for statewide office. Taft submitted about 5,000 signatures on petitions for candidacy, but so far Brown has accepted only about 1,600 of the signatures and has withheld certification.

The secretary of state's office is checking Taft petitions to determine if changes on them were made before signatures were obtained. Brown indicated Friday that the check is proving most petitions to be valid.

Taft, speaking in Lancaster Friday, called the situation "a tempest in a teapot," and added that he has no worry about being certified.

Statute requires candidates for statewide office to file at least 1,000 valid names from 30 or more counties to qualify.

Brown also has delayed action on petitions filed by tyro politician John H. Glenn Jr., Democratic Senate hopeful, and two would-be Supreme Court candidates, Democrat Joseph D. Bryan of Columbus and Republican Louis J. Schwartz of Felicity.

U.S. Envoy Still Seeks Cyprus Peace

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—U.S. Undersecretary of State George W. Ball held urgent talks today with Greek officials as military rumblings from Turkey brought a new threat to his Cyprus peacemaking mission.

Turkish troop-carrying warships were said to have embarked from the port of Iskenderun, less than 100 miles from embattled Cyprus. The reports sent a wave of fear across the embattled island of an imminent Turkish invasion.

The Turkish chief of staff, Gen. Cevdet Sunay, was quoted as having said the shipments were maneuvers, not an invasion.

Greek forces also were said to be on an alert.

Ball plans to leave for London later today for conferences with British officials on a new tack in the perilous situation.

Turkey's Premier Ismet Inonu warned Ball in Ankara Friday that Turkey might have to act alone to protect the Turkish Cypriot minority unless peace is restored on the embattled Mediterranean island.

Ball left Cyprus after he had failed to persuade the island's Greek Cypriot president, Archbishop Makarios, to accept an international peace force free of U.N. control to keep the warring factions apart.

Theft of Spare Tire Takes Lots of Work

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Someone apparently went to a lot of trouble to fix a flat tire.

A car belonging to Joseph Wright was parked at a West Side Dayton garage. During the night someone removed the rear seat, unhinged the back section leading to the trunk and removed the bolts locking the trunk.

Then from the open trunk the intruder took a spare tire and a bumper jack.

Athens Farm Family Victim Of Attack

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Rudy Zamora, a 20-year-old farmhand sought in the brutal slaying of four persons, shot and killed himself today as pursuing deputies closed in.

The large posse heard gunshots as it was stalking the hills six miles southwest of this southeastern Ohio city.

Zamora's body was found on a ridge a half-mile from the multiple murder scene. A tractor was sent up the ridge to bring the body down.

Zamora, a former mental patient said to be of Mexican descent, was believed to be the person who shot to death late Friday four members of a farm family and wounded two others.

Athens County Sheriff Harold Shields said the youth apparently had fled the slaying scene clad only in a polo shirt and dungarees.

Deputies were called to the two-story farm home about six miles west of here shortly after 7 p.m. Friday after one of the wounded victims, Patricia Wildman, 22, made her way to the home of a neighbor, Glenn McDaniel.

Danny Pierce, 6, nephew of Patricia, also was wounded and escaped. Danny had been shot with a .22-caliber rifle, all the others with a shotgun.

Officers who entered the Wildman home found the bodies of W. M. Wildman, 57; his wife, Mildred, 60; their son, Eugene, 14; and Geneva Pierce, about 26, the dead couple's widowed daughter.

Also found were Dean, 2, and David Pierce, 3, sons of Mrs. (Continued on Page 5)

5 Tough Fishermen OK After Rescue from Isle

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—The five tough fishermen plucked Thursday from a chilled Aleutian Island beach felt so well today their rescue vessel planned to stop off at Dutch Harbor to run a minor errand on the long voyage home to Kodiak.

Word came from the Coast Guard cutter Storis the men were in good condition and would admit only to one sore toe, one small cut on a head, and one smoke-inflamed eye.

In a seven-hour battle with the surf that pounded over an intervening reef, the Storis saved Capt. George Hamilton of Seattle and four crewmen of the crab boat Cape Spencer.

The five had floundered ashore when their boat broke up on the Akun Island reef. For four days, whipped by snow-throwing winds up to 60 knots, they huddled beneath a cliff on a narrow, rocky beach.

Wreckage of the Cape Spencer washed ashore to give them material for a lean-to shelter and wood for smoky fire.

A day after the mishap they were spotted by a Coast Guard plane. The Storis set out from Kodiak on her 600-mile rescue mission. Planes tried without success to drop food to the marooned men, who had only a small can of raspberries and a package each of cornflakes and biscuit mix.

Three of the men had no shoes, Capt. Hamilton told The Associated Press by radio telephone from the Storis.

"There wasn't much of anywhere to walk, anyway," he said.

Snowstorm Hits Plains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A snowstorm accompanied by blinding winds marched from the Rocky Mountains into the Central Plains and Midwest today, smacking Nebraska and Kansas with near-blizzard conditions and dumping accumulations of snow in several areas.

North Platte, Neb., reported five inches, with snow still falling. Also in Nebraska, Grand Island and Burwell had four inches each.

Hill City, Kan., had a four-inch snowfall.

Strong northerly winds plagued the North Platte area, blowing the snow into deep drifts and in some instances reducing visibility to less than a mile.

The storm spread into Iowa and Missouri, dropping light snowfall, and in the South a rain shield covered areas to the Gulf Coast.

Ruby Trial Due Monday

DALLAS (AP) — Prosecution and defense in the Jack Ruby murder trial will begin Monday trying to select 12 fair and impartial jurors out of 900 Dallas County citizens.

Defense Attorney Melvin Belli says he feels the task is impossible. He says Dallas is saturated with prejudice against Ruby, who shot Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy, before television cameras.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade, who will seek the death penalty for the 52-year-old former strip joint operator, has repeatedly said he feels a fair jury can be found in Dallas.

Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown ruled Friday that the true test of determining whether both sides can receive a fair trial depends upon the examination of the prospective jurors.

McNamara Aide Center Of Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department reports it has found irregularities in the handling of accounts in the office of an aide to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The entire case has been turned over to the Justice Department's Criminal Division or study.

In response to questions, the Pentagon said Friday that the irregularities had occurred in the Budget and Finance Branch in the office of McNamara's administrative assistant. It named no individual as being involved.

The Budget and Finance Branch has been headed since 1952 by John A. Wylie, 57. He has been on sick leave since Nov. 1.

The Pentagon said the alleged irregularities first had been noticed during a routine audit last fall. It said the irregularities had involved "failure to follow established Department of Defense accounting procedures."

Asked if Wylie had gone on leave voluntarily, the Pentagon replied: "When the irregularities were discovered, he went on annual leave, but on presentation of a doctor's certificate the character of his leave was changed to sick leave."

Wylie's annual salary is $17,500.

The Defense Department declined to give any details of the probe.

New British Budget Reaches Record High

LONDON (AP) — British government spending will reach a record total of $22.4 billion in the 1964-65 fiscal year, Chancellor of the Exchequer Reginald Maudling told Parliament Friday.

Ordinary budget estimates are $18,337,200,000, a rise of 6.7 per cent over the current year. To this must be added $5.6 billion more for debt service and other government payments. The increases include a record peacetime defense budget which jumps $448 million to $5,595.8 billion.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — U.S. commissioner of Education Francis Keppel told the nation's school administrators today that despite the enormous desegregation pressures on them, "I say, thank God for the civil-rights movement."

"It provides the very opportunity we have been looking for to fulfill the promise of education as the conqueror of poverty and the harbinger of hope," he declared.

For years, he said, educators have talked of the apathy of slum parents and have argued that "we can't teach their children because they are not interested in education."

"But now, out of the civil-rights movement, we are learning differently," he said. "We are learning that many of these parents are interested and have finally found a way to express their interest."

"If we can't deal creatively with this motivation for which we have looked so long, if once again we beat down this hope and return these people to despair, it will be the tragedy of our times," he said in his address for some 25,000 school administrators.

The commissioner also said that educators "must face up squarely to our shortcomings" if education is to succeed as a conqueror of poverty.

"The plain fact of the matter is," he said, "that we are simply not reaching hundreds of thousands of children who are now in our schools. You know it, and I know it, and the public knows it."

Unless this is accepted as a starting point to work for new solutions, he added, "we will be lost."

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Warren County Judge John Zopff has declared a mistrial in the case of Eugene Tufts of West Carrollton, being tried on a charge of cruelty to animals.

The judge dismissed the jurors Friday night when it was learned two of them had read a newspaper story of the trial that started Thursday night.

Zopff granted the defense motion for a mistrial when attorneys said the article contained erroneous information, including misquoting one witness.

Tufts and his wife were arrested on 11 counts each of cruelty to animals after sheriff's deputies and a humane association officer said they found 26 dead hogs on the Tufts' Waynesville farm last Dec. 22-23. The officials said they found about 150 head of other livestock in poor condition.

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Warren County Judge John Zopff has declared a mistrial in the case of Eugene Tufts of West Carrollton, being tried on a charge of cruelty to animals.

The judge dismissed the jurors Friday night when it was learned two of them had read a newspaper story of the trial that started Thursday night.

Zopff granted the defense motion for a mistrial when attorneys said the article contained erroneous information, including misquoting one witness.

Tufts and his wife were arrested on 11 counts each of cruelty to animals after sheriff's deputies and a humane association officer said they found 26 dead hogs on the Tufts' Waynesville farm last Dec. 22-23. The officials said they found about 150 head of other livestock in poor condition.

Athens Farm Family Victim Of Attack

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Rudy Zamora, a 20-year-old farmhand sought in the brutal slaying of four persons, shot and killed himself today as pursuing deputies closed in.

The large posse heard gunshots as it was stalking the hills six miles southwest of this southeastern Ohio city.

Zamora's body was found on a ridge a half-mile from the multiple murder scene. A tractor was sent up the ridge to bring the body down.

Zamora, a former mental patient said to be of Mexican descent, was believed to be the person who shot to death late Friday four members of a farm family and wounded two others.

Athens County Sheriff Harold Shields said the youth apparently had fled the slaying scene clad only in a polo shirt and dungarees.

Deputies were called to the two-story farm home about six miles west of here shortly after 7 p.m. Friday after one of the wounded victims, Patricia Wildman, 22, made her way to the home of a neighbor, Glenn McDaniel.

Danny Pierce, 6, nephew of Patricia, also was wounded and escaped. Danny had been shot with a .22-caliber rifle, all the others with a shotgun.

Officers who entered the Wildman home found the bodies of W. M. Wildman, 57; his wife, Mildred, 60; their son, Eugene, 14; and Geneva Pierce, about 26, the dead couple's widowed daughter.

Also found were Dean, 2, and David Pierce, 3, sons of Mrs. (Continued on Page 5)

Word came from the Coast Guard cutter Storis the men were in good condition and would admit only to one sore toe, one small cut on a head, and one smoke-inflamed eye.

In a seven-hour battle with the surf that pounded over an intervening reef, the Storis saved Capt. George Hamilton of Seattle and four crewmen of the crab boat Cape Spencer.

The five had floundered ashore when their boat broke up on the Akun Island reef. For four days, whipped by snow-thrashing winds up to 60 knots, they huddled beneath a cliff on a narrow, rocky beach.

Wreckage of the Cape Spencer washed ashore to give them material for a lean-to shelter and wood for smoky fire.

A day after the mishap they were spotted by a Coast Guard plane. The Storis set out from Kodiak on her 600-mile rescue mission. Planes tried without success to drop food to the marooned men, who had only a small can of raspberries and a package each of cornflakes and biscuit mix.

Three of the men had no shoes, Capt. Hamilton told The Associated Press by radio telephone from the Storis.

"There wasn't much of any where to walk, anyway," he said.

Ruby Trial Due Monday

DALLAS (AP) — Prosecution and defense in the Jack Ruby murder trial will begin Monday trying to select 12 fair and impartial jurors out of 900 Dallas County citizens.

Defense Attorney Melvin Belli says he feels the task is impossible. He says Dallas is saturated with prejudice against Ruby, who shot Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy, before television cameras.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade, who will seek the death penalty for the 32-year-old former strip joint operator, has repeatedly said he feels a fair jury can be found in Dallas.

Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown ruled Friday that the true test of determining whether both sides can receive a fair trial depends upon the examination of the prospective jurors.

4-H Peace Corps Projects in Need Of Volunteers

Men and women with farm and 4-H club experience — 18 years or older — are needed for 4-H Peace Corps projects.

County Extension Agent George Hamrick says these projects are a part of the regular Peace Corps program. Volunteers assist in building 4-H type rural youth education programs in other countries.

These programs have spread to some 70 countries of the world, Hamrick noted. They are credited with making substantial contributions to the improvement of farm and home methods and to community development in new and developing nations.

The local agent reports that 4-H Peace Corps service is for two years, including the training period in the United States. The volunteers in Peace Corps work have the satisfaction of contributing to the education of needy people, as well as to

Custom Work May Lower Harvest Cost

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent, Agriculture

Ohio farmers with small acreages could be saddled with high harvest costs if they own their own harvesters. In many cases they could get the job done more economically by hiring a custom harvester.

A study in western Ohio showed an average harvest cost of $18.50 per acre when a farmer owned his own 6-foot combine to harvest only 15 acres of small grain each year.

Custom harvesting involves some risks with the weather which could affect quantity and quality while waiting for the custom harvester.

Considering prevailing custom rates and weather risks in western Ohio, ownership gives the farmer per acre harvesting costs only when corn picking acreage reaches 88 acres, when hay baling hits 68 tons, and when field chopping goes over 155 tons of grass or 235 tons of corn silage per year.

When such risks are ignored, the annual amounts needed to justify ownership of equipment for harvesting jumps to 123 acres for corn, 104 tons for hay baling, and about 350 tons for silage chopping.

Climatic risks must be considered in addition to ownership costs such as depreciation, interest on investment, and direct operating costs, when deciding whether or not to buy a harvester. Ownership could be a costly convenience if a custom harvester was available.

Here are some notes on a fabric preview for Spring of 1964:

COLORS — are clear, clean and sunshiny. First on the list are pastels for spring and summer which may be seen in the cool and crystal or in the gentle and chalky — among the names to be found are frosted ice blue, pom pom pink, pale peach, aqua mist, mimosa yellow and apple green.

A look at the mid-pastel or second group will show the bulk of spring colors in the livelier tones which are neither timid or bold — in this group a wide range of pinks are fashionable but the favorites are from the mauve and cyclamen shades like wild raspberry, azalea and peony.

Also to be seen in mid-pastels are lilacs, lavenders, aquamarines, sky blues, jades and emeralds. Mexican colors are the newest in the promotional colors.

Resort and summer fabrics will feature such colors as sun gold, marigold, World's Fair orange, brilliant green, fuchsia, African violet, and red-hot pepper. A move to the summer transitional colors will show the darker versions in colors of madder red, navy and dark brown. As always black and white will be important.

Neutrals too, will have their place with a few being natural lax and straw tones, pearl gray and varying tones of off white.

PRINTS — are varied, bold, dramatic and classic. Panel prints will be featured in giant spaced motifs, paisley, graduated floral borders, and abstracts.

The jungle prints for resort or play include stylized abstract florals inspired by Polynesia, Hawaii and Africa. In contrast to fall, the new florals are flat and bold and range from those

Advance Payments Available On Diverted F-G Acreage

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent, Agriculture

Participants in the 1964 Feed Grain Program can receive advance payments on their diverted acres, says Dr. Wallace Barr, Ohio State University Extension economist.

Under this voluntary program, producers receive payments for diverting corn, barley, and grain sorghum acres to conservation uses. The payments are based on the farm's established normal yield and the county's total price support rate.

Producers can get up to one-half of this payment when they sign up for the program at the county ASC office, according to Barr. Final diversion payment for taking feed grain acreage out of production will be about Sept. 1.

Producers have a choice of receiving payment as a certificate that can be redeemed in grain or as a sight draft cashable at any bank.

FARMERS must take several steps to participate in the program, according to Barr. If a farm has a feed grain base established, the farmer must complete and file an intention to participate form at the county ASC office between now and

Other research showed that the same chemical could be used to combat the birch leaf miner on white birch, aphid or Euonymus and mites on honey locust. More chemical is needed for these pests, so the dosage should be increased to two teaspoons of Cygon 2E or one of Cygon 4E for each 10 square feet of soil surface.

BIRCH LEAF miner is best controlled with an application about May 15. Best time to apply the material for aphids and mites is as soon as they appear.

Caution should be exercised when using Cygon, says Dr. Neiswander, because it may injure the plants if too high a concentration is used. Further, it may injure other plants if not recommended for use on them.

Tests with two other materials showed good control on

P&G Appeals Federal Ruling Ordering Sale

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Procter & Gamble Co. has asked that a Federal Trade Commission ruling ordering it to sell Clorox Chemical Co. of Oakland, Calif., be set aside. P&G filed the petition in the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals.

The FTC said the purchase of Clorox by P&G may substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly in the bleach manufacturing industry. P&G purchased the firm in 1957.

Westfall School Nears Completion

INSPECTION — Pickaway County Superintendent of Schools George McDowell (left) and Jud Lanman, executive head of the Westfall School District, inspect the interior of the gymnasium at the school. Maintenance free materials are being used in the building whenever possible, according to Lanman. He and McDowell are looking at a ceramic tile wall in the gym.

Although exterior work on the Westfall School building has been slowed by winter weather, interior construction continues at a rapid pace.

The building, designed by Kellam and Foley and being constructed by the Knowlton Building Co., is scheduled to be ready for occupancy next September.

Monroe, Darby, Jackson and Williamsport - Atlanta will be combined to form the new high school.

The $1,395,000 bond issue to provide funds for the school was passed in the May primaries in 1962. The construction contract was let later that summer to the Knowlton firm of Bellefontaine.

ACTUAL construction was started last year, early in the spring.

The construction superintendent, Jack De War, says all phases of construction, including moving in of the equipment, should be completed by early summer. The building has been designed to be as maintenance free as possible.

Record GE Savings Package Payments to Employees Begin

The General Electric Co. this week began delivery on the "payout" portion of a $135.3 million package which came due on Jan. 1 for more than 191,000 GE savings plans participants. This will be the largest payout in history under the nation's industrial savings plans.

E. G. Grigg, manager of the Circleville Lamp plant, said GE employees here will receive more than $125,000 in stocks, bonds and cash.

The estimated value of this record-breaking savings package was figured in terms of the Dec. 31, 1963 closing market value of General Electric stock on the New York Stock Exchange ($87.125) and the maturity value of United States Savings Bonds.

At these values, the combined payments to be delivered under both the Savings and Security Program and the Stock Bonus Plan will total $122.4 million. Of this, $43.5 million will be in GE stock, $77.9 million in U.S. Bonds and about $1 million in accumulated income.

Science Seeks Solution To Water Conversion

By ADRIENNE BOSWORTH
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Scientists at Battelle Memorial Institute here are trying to solve a problem that plagued the Ancient Mariner and now Americans at Guantanamo Bay in Cuba.

They are searching for an inexpensive way to take the "water, water everywhere" and provide drops to drink.

The problem has concerned research institutes, industry and government for many years, according to James A. Eibling, chief of Thermal Systems Research at Battelle.

If a workable solution has not been found, there have been big strides since 1952 when the Department of Interior established its Office of Saline Water.

Eibling said the cost of converting sea water into fresh water in 1952 was $4 to $5 per thousand gallons in the production of one million gallons a day.

Today it can be done for $1.25, or, by producing 10 million gallons a day, the cost would be 80 cents per thousand, Eibling estimated.

The research chief figured that a breakthrough in developing methods of converting the water could bring the price down to 50 cents per thousand on production of 10 million gallons a day.

That's about as low as the cost would get, he predicted, a price still about double the amount paid for fresh water in the city of Columbus. However, Eibling said, production of fresh water involves "just pumping and a little chlorine."

Eibling said several methods have been developed for desalting water, some more effective for brackish water—water with less concentration of salt than ocean water. They are systems for taking the water way from the salt, as opposed to taking the salt out of the water.

Battelle has worked almost all the methods and is involved in solar distilling and freezing, which Eibling describes as "a real comer."

At a solar research station which Battelle operates for the Office of Saline Water, scientists are experimenting with solar distillation.

In this method a shallow "pond" of salt water is covered either with glass or plastic, Eibling explained. The sun's heat produces salt-free condensation on the covering which is tapped off into gutters. The method produces one-tenth of a gallon of fresh water per square foot of surface.

Eibling said this method is cheaper than the others, but requires large areas of land. He said it was an important method for desert areas.

Battelle scientists also are working on ways to improve equipment and bring down its cost. They are conducting corrosion experiments, possibly to find cheaper materials that will not be harmed by salt water. They are studying better methods of heat transfer.

Eibling listed several factors which will combine to reduce the cost of converting sea water—systems larger in size which will increase the output, thus decreasing the percentage cost per thousand gallons; more competition among manufacturers leading to competitive bidding on projects, and new processes through research and development.

The key is need, he added, saying when things get into a point when the need to convert water is great, all the factors will work to lower the price.

Maldistribution of water will produce the need, Eibling continued. "People are migrating to arid regions, for example our Phoenix," he said. "Industry is moving into non-water areas."

He also spoke of population expansion and more and more industrial and non-industrial uses for water. "We're using a lot more everywhere."

Of this, $43.5 million will be in GE stock, $77.9 million in U.S. Bonds and about $1 million in accumulated income.

IN ADDITION to the amounts being delivered to participants, over $13 million in GE stock will be held in trust for participants who elected the S&S program's retirement option and as fractional shares carried forward under both savings plans.

The February distribution will bring GE stock and U.S. Savings Bonds to 102,300 Savings and Security Program participants who saved in 1960 and 89,000 people who saved under the Stock Bonus Plan in 1958.

The total payment package includes employees' savings in those years plus an added 50 per cent proportionate company payment under the Savings and Security Program and a 15 per cent bonus under the Savings and Stock Bonus Plan.

This year's distribution is the second made to participants under the General Electric Savings and Security Program which began in 1959 and the eleventh under the Savings and Stock Bonus Plan which started in 1948. In a similar distribution last year, GE employees received $124 million worth of securities, a record at that time.

Since 1959, more than 100,000 GE employees have become share owners of the company for the first time as a result of participation in a savings plan, Grigg said. All told, about one-third of General Electric's 520,000 shareowners of record acquired stock under such a plan, he added.

Noting that well over half the company's 260,000 employees owned General Electric stock, Grigg said it was "healthy and encouraging to see this broadening base of company ownership among employees."

"Many of our personnel are planning to use their invested savings for long-term opportunities, such as education for their children, which we feel is very encouraging," Grigg said.

Freeway Fear

Remember the story, not apocryphal but real, about the young man accepted for the U. S. Air Force Academy from California and asked how he would feel about becoming an astronaut? He said he'd like that fine but was in mortal terror of being launched onto a Los Angeles freeway.

There is cause for such fears. A.L.A. psychiatrist, Merrill B. Friend, says that "freeway anxiety" is a genuine ailment in southern California. It is described as being afraid of being hemmed in by traffic. And, the doctor says, "some people lack the aggressiveness to survive on the freeway."

How serious this is can be gleaned from some statistics: California has 9 million cars, one of every 15 in the world and one out of every 9 in the U.S. Californians drive 70 billion miles a year and by 1975 experts estimate that 80 per cent of all rural driving and 50 per cent of all metropolitan driving will be on eightlane freeways. By 1980 there will be 17 million cars on California highways. Of 2.5 million persons employed in L. A., 82 per cent drive to and from work.

But the worst statistic is the 46,000 accidents a year on the L. A. freeway. As one commuter says "It's like racing a train to a crossing." And his wife: "I just close my eyes when we drive on the freeways."

What does all this mean? Simply this. Be thankful you are here and not there.

Farmers Good Customers

There is a tendency these days, with the decreasing total farm population, to forget that in spite of the trend there still are millions of persons living in rural areas who are better customers than ever because of increasing individual incomes.

Thus it was good to have this point emphasized in a recent speech by Richard J. Babcock, publisher of the Farm Journal.

"The widely publicized fact that the total number of farms in the United States decreased by about one-third during the past 20 years has led many people to a variety of erroneous conclusions about farming," Babcock said.

Few people know that nearly a million farms were wiped out in the last census just by a change in the definition of a farm.

"Few know that the number of farms with annual agricultural output of $10,000 or more has nearly doubled since 1930. Not many realize that more than half the nation's farm families have a second income totaling nearly $9 billion a year."

The fact is that farmers are major buyers — in fact better customers than ever — of consumer goods. Mechanization and good management have produced more money down on the farm than ever. The company in the business of selling that doesn't take this fact into account is missing a major market.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — Success in slowing the outflow of dollars to other lands is taking some of the steam out of the pressure building up for higher interest rates. These are regarded as a prime weapon in halting the drain on dollars and gold.

But some bankers say tighter money is sure to come anyway, even if the international problem eases. Others look for the official money managers to try to hold down the rate of expansion in the money supply later this year. This is sure to be fought by many in and out of government.

Involved are the two goals, often seemingly at odds—Saving the U.S. gold reserves and spurring the domestic economy to make more jobs.

Lining up in both government and banking circles are the advocates of easier money to finance a boom and on the other side those who think credit should be tightened to forestall inflation.

Some say that 1964 will see the fight against the deficit in U.S. payments with the rest of the world working even more at cross purposes with the economic boost expected from a federal income tax cut.

This would complicate the easy money debate. The official view, however, is that a booming economy here will attract foreign dollars and solve the gold problem — and hopefully furnish the needed jobs.

Interest rates were pushed up on short-term loans when so many dollars were going abroad to take advantage of higher yields there that the payments deficit was soaring and foreigners were using surplus dollars to buy U.S. gold. Higher rates here kept many of these dollars at home, and the gold loss slowed to a trickle.

In the last six months the balance of payments problem has eased notably. The deficit comes from foreigners spending less on American goods and for investment here than this government and private concerns spend abroad for imports, loans, grants, investment.

At mid-1963 the deficit had mounted to a $5-billion annual rate. At the end of the year it had fallen to an annual rate of $1.5 billion. For the year as a whole the official deficit is put at $3 billion. But Washington is taking heart chiefly from the sharp drop in the final months.

Emphasis thus has been shifting to the possibility of tightening credit at home to forestall an inflationary boom rather than to preserve the gold at Ft. Knox.

Last year the money supply here increased by 4 per cent. The supply is the amount actually in circulation plus the total of demand deposits. An increasing money supply finances both consumer purchases and business investment — that is, the growth of the economy.

The question is how much the money supply can be increased without producing a boom that leads to price inflation.

Some bankers here are arguing that the regulators of credit should allow another 4 per cent increase this year. Some officials are reported of the opinion that would cause inflation and that perhaps a 3 per cent increase would serve the economy better.

If demand expands as expected after the tax cut, and the money and credit supply is held down, interest rates will be under pressure to rise.

If lots of credit is allowed to build up and money turns easier, interest rates will fall. And then there'll be that payments deficit and gold problem again.

Anyway, that's how bankers see the tight rope that Washington will have to walk in coming months.

DREW DUDLEY tells about the American tourist in Venice who heard a man hollering, "Apples! Buy your apples here! Only a dime apiece." The American tapped the man on the shoulder and commented, "You poor sap. Nobody here understands one word of English—and they buy in lire, not dimes."

A beatific smile broke out on the man's face. "You're the very man I've been waiting for," he said happily. "Tell me how I get from here to the San Marco Cathedral."

In Ohio there lives a medical student who spent his summer vacation building up his sadly depleted cash reserve. He worked as a butcher in the day time and was a hospital orderly at night. Both jobs, of course, involved wearing similar white uniforms. One evening he was instructed to wheel a patient on a stretcher into surgery. The patient, a stout, very frightened lady, looked up at the student and let out an unearthly scream. "My God!" she wailed, "it's my BUTCHER!"

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

It is difficult to believe, but a proven fact, that an excessive intake of Vitamin A was recently found to be the cause of a severe and prolonged illness in a 39-year-old woman.

The case is sufficiently important to warrant a detailed report, in order to emphasize the need for moderation in the use of vitamins.

The patient was admitted to the hospital because of a variety of confusing signs and symptoms that did not fit into any of the usual patterns for diagnosis. To the admitting doctor the patient casually mentioned that Vitamin A was one of the medicines she had "prescribed" for herself.

It was not until the study of her blood revealed an unusually high level of Vitamin A, that the mysterious symptom complex became completely clear. A level of 874 micrograms was found in the blood serum, as compared to the normal of 70 micrograms.

The patient then revealed that for eight years she had been taking multi-vitamin tablets, plus 150,000 units of Vitamin A daily "in order to help her vision." For five months prior to her acute and almost disastrous illness (hypervitaminosis) she had been taking as much as two million units of Vitamin A "to relieve fatigue."

This shocking misuse of Vitamin A becomes more apparent when it is noted that the normal daily requirement of Vitamin A for adults is 8,000 units. Concentrated and prolonged treatment was necessary for this severe vitamin intoxication before the patient was returned to the state of good health that she disrupted by misguided self-medication.

Unless we learn from such a potentially hazardous situation, there always remains the possibility that it will be repeated.

What should this case report teach those who conscientiously strive to maintain their good health? The lesson to be learned is that self-diagnosis with prolonged self-medication, even with "safe household drugs," can be dangerous.

Does this mean that vitamins generally are a risk?

It definitely does not! Vitamins are excellent sources of dietary supplements when used in moderate doses under direction and with discretion.

Fortunately, the body has a wise built-in regulator that utilizes only the amount of vitamin it needs for healthy function. Normally, excesses of vitamin intake are excreted when the body requirements are fulfilled. But even this protective regulator cannot cope with overwhelming doses of vitamins.

The United States Food and Drug Administration has established firm rules for purity in the production of all vitamins. Pharmaceutical manufacturers rigidly adhere to all these safety measures.

The vitamin-consuming public is adequately protected against impurities in vitamin production. This same public is not so well protected against the pressure of the "vitamin and health" dispensing super-salesmen."

Sales competition frequently forces emphasis on an unnecessarily high number of units of various vitamins in a product. Purchasers are often beguiled by these "generous" amounts.

The plea of physicians and food experts is that the public develop a more controlled attitude towards the use of all vitamins. These valuable additions to the diet can lose their effectiveness if they are taken without discretion.

Definition of Amateurism

Since the Olympic games are hardly a matter of life or death to anybody (save possibly for a few citizens of Iron Curtain countries who make use of them to defect), the post-mortems about the bad U.S. showing in the Winter sports competition at Innsbruck, Austria, come properly under the heading of amusement. But there is one question that should be raised seriously, for it sheds much light on the difference between Communist and capitalist countries.

The question swings on the definition of amateurism, which must have a different meaning in a Communist culture than it has in free enterprise lands. In Soviet Russia, everybody, in the last analysis, is on the State's payroll. And under the Marxist slogan of "From each according to his abilities, to each according to his needs," a Soviet hockey player who would refuse to play hockey for the glory of the Kremlin would be a first-class candidate for recruitment to a salt mine. Even leaving the matter of pressure out of it, hockey players in Russia must play for the community if they are to play at all.

So the best Soviet hockey players go up against odd-lot volunteers from Canada, the United States and elsewhere. And, not so mysteriously, the Soviets win. But would they win if they were matched, let us say, against a team drawn from among the Canadian professionals who play for Montreal or Toronto, for example? The Boom-Boom Geoffrions and the Henry ("Pocket Rocket") Richards would surely outscore anybody in the world.

It may be assumed that no American gets to go to an Olympic meet as a participant without having had to pay out a good deal of money to perfect himself in his particular skill. In Communist countries the cash, time and training to achieve perfection are allocated on a national public relations basis. But in a nation like the United States, the support of amateurs must in the nature of things be hit-or-miss.

The United States, in past years, has done well mainly in figure skating. This is a sport—or an art—that is extremely expensive, as any father of a skating son or daughter must know. It takes thousands of hours, at a costly fee for instruction and skating "patch" time, to make a champion.

But even here, luck plays as much of a part as money in producing an Olympic champion in the United States. If you probe for enough, you will find that most American figure skating champions in the past have been subsidized by their coaches. Carol Heiss, the Olympic star of times gone by, was practically adopted by her teacher, Pierre Brunet, who gave unstintingly of his time and energy and pedagogical skills. Sonya Klopfer, another first-rank American skater who is now a professional, got a good deal of free individual attention as a child from the late Bill Chase, who never cared for money if he thought he could make a champion.

By John Chamberlain

I wouldn't change this an iota. I happen to like pros better than amateurs, who are mostly a hypocritical lot. A professional competitor like Joe DiMaggio or Ted Williams is worth a hundred amateurs when it comes to expressing real amatory feelings for the game. But in voting for the status quo I think the difference between Russian and U.S. athletics should be understood. It isn't, we might fall into the error of supposing that the Communist system, which indubitably won at Innsbruck, has something that we lack. And in thinking thus we would be accepting a Cold War defeat.

OSU Trustees OK 10 New Building Jobs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University's Board of Trustees Friday launched 10 campus building projects by authorizing employment of nine architectural firms for planning services on the project.

The action is subject to approval by the state director of public works.

The architects would provide preliminary plans, basic and working drawings, specifications, cost estimates and necessary bidding documents.

The board said $9.1 million has been allocated for construction of five of the projects through appropriations from state bond issue funds by the General Assembly or from federal sources. Planning money has just been released by the state controlling board for eight of the projects.

The new projects include a $3,321,800 pharmacy building; a $2,897,000 building for the college of engineering; a $1,310,000 for an addition to the Evans Laboratory for chemistry research; a $854,500 addition to the present dentistry building; an aerodynamics and missile propulsion laboratory costing more than $700,000; an addition to the present physics building; an electronics laboratory and a systems engineering building. A series of projects also are planned for the college of medicine.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It's a holdover engagement for Frank Sinatra Jr., star witness at his own kidnapping trial.

A trio of defense attorneys took turns Friday with a rugged cross-examination of the 20-year-old singing son of a famed singer father.

Mrs. Gladys Towles Root, colorful lawyer noted for her flamboyant dress, said she will continue her cross-examination when court reconvenes Monday. And Morris Lavine, another defense attorney, said he will show Monday why the defense wants to keep Sinatra on hand as a witness in their case.

NEW SMYRNA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A powerful dynamite blast tore into the underside of a strike-bound Florida east Coast Railway freight train Friday night and exploded a propane gas tank car that sent a ball of flame hundreds of feet in the air.

It was the second derailment by explosives of an FEC freight train this month. Earlier this week, four boys found 45 sticks of dynamite, wired to explode on contact of train wheels. They dismantled it seconds before a train whizzed by.

"Another sabotage, another attempted murder," said W. L. Thornton, chief railway operating officer.

Mrs. Pierce's husband, Richard, died of a heart attack a month ago while Danny, the son wounded, was with him in the family car.

Patricia Wildman and Danny were admitted to Sheltering Arms Hospital here, where she was reported in fair condition and he in good condition.

The sheriff said he understood from relatives that Zamora had been trying to collect from the family some money he claimed he was owed for work on the farm.

Patricia suffered pellet wounds in the temple and shoulder. Danny was hit in the stomach. Patricia was home on a visit from Parkersburg, W. Va., where she is a college student.

The sheriff said Danny was brought to the hospital by a motorist who found the bleeding youngster and his brother, Dale, 5, wandering along a highway. Dale was unharmed but also was in the home when the shooting occurred.

Shields said early today he believed his men were getting close on the trail of Zamora. They found a smoldering fire on a golf course near the Wildman home which they believed he built to try to keep warm. "We are hoping to flush him out in the morning," the sheriff said.

Shields said Zamora, whose sister is married to Solomon Wildman of Middleport, has been working at the Wildman farm since last Nov. 1 when he came here after living in San Antonio, Tex. Solomon Wildman, another son of the slain couple, is a circulation man for the Athens Messenger.

The sheriff said Zamora, who has black hair, weighs 135 pounds and stands 5-foot-10, once attempted suicide.

Conservatives To Tell Views In Publication

WASHINGTON (AP)—A collection of writings by 14 educators and scientists that deals with foreign and domestic problems will be published March 20 as "The Conservative Papers."

Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., chairman of an informal group of nine House Republicans sponsoring the book, said today:

"I would think this (the book) would be a basic campaign document for the 1964 (presidential) campaign." Laird also is chairman of the platform committee for this year's GOP National Convention.

Two years ago a group of House Democrats, under the chairmanship of Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., sponsored "The Liberal Papers."

Laird said the latest compilation "tries to put the conservative point of view in proper focus."

Those associated with him in compiling the papers included Robert Taft Jr. of Ohio.

"They are papers which might spark a conservative-liberal debate in the dignified and solid terms in which such a confrontation should be conducted," Laird said.

Betting Shop Offers Odds On Death

BALERNO, Scotland (AP)—You can lay a bet today in the village betting shop on who'll be the first local resident to die.

At the moment, the legalized gambling shop has seven runners in the death sweepstakes. Nobody can bet, including the men whose names are on the board for all to see. No one has collected—yet.

As each man catches cold, or suffers any form of illness, the odds change.

Favorite for the grave today was widower Jimmy Orr, 68, at 3-1 odds. Jimmy downed his whisky at the pub and said:

"When one of us fails to turn up either at the local pub or the betting shop, he is automatically made favorite. In only a few weeks ago I was in bed with bronchitis and was made 4-5 favorite."

Archie Marshall at 73 is the oldest man in the betting. He is joint second favorite at 6-1.

Archie Dickson, 59, is a rank outsider. He is youngest man on the board. The other entries contend he now is drinking lemonade instead of whisky so he can outlast the others and collect bets on death.

Capitalism To Aid Soviet Ag Progress

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev said Friday that with the aid of capitalist methods and machines, the Soviet Union will cover its farmlands with chemical fertilizer in seven years, doing what capitalist countries took decades to do.

Addressing the plenary meeting of the Communist party's Central Committee in summing up the Soviet food crisis, Khrushchev said "certain politicians in capitalist countries contend that the planned program of development of chemistry is beyond the strength of Soviet economy."

"But the Soviet Union is a mighty Socialist country," he declared. "The program of creating a large-scale chemical industry is within the possibilities of our people. There is no question that it will be fulfilled."

The Soviet premier said a good machine, whether made under a socialist or a capitalist country, can be successfully used in building communism and any officials who do not apply new ideas "must be replaced and others promoted."

Woman Dead 45 Seconds Gets Ticker

BETHPAGE, N.Y. (AP)—A woman who was technically dead for 45 seconds left a hospital Friday with a mechanically restored heart.

The St. Valentine's Day departure of Dorothy Kirshe, 57 of Glen Oaks, Queens, climaxed a fight for life that began Feb. 5 when she was stricken with heart attacks while visiting her daughter's home in near-by Farmingdale.

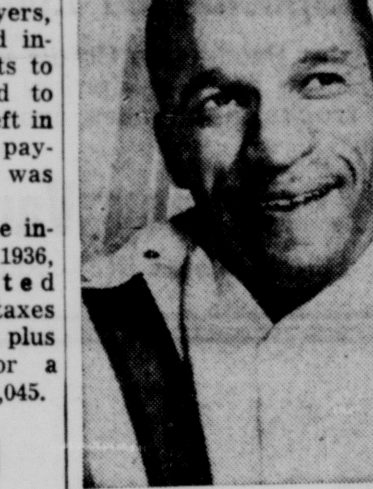

Taken to Mid-Island Hospital in this Long Island community, her pulse rate was found to be eight beats a minute, compared to a normal rate of 72 to 80. Then her heart stopped pumping.

"She was dead for 45 seconds," the hospital said.

Doctors massaged and sent electrical shocks to her heart and, coupled with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, they restored her breathing again.

Last Wednesday, during a 2 1/2-hour operation, doctors inserted a tiny, permanent, battery-powered heart regulator inside her. It keeps her heart beating regularly through shocks when necessary.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren
It's Inherited!

DEAR ABBY: I made what I thought was a good suggestion and it started a whole family fight. My daughter recently got a diamond ring and plans to be married this summer. My sister's daughter announced her engagement New Year's Eve, and she plans to be married this summer, too. When I mentioned to the other members of my family that I thought it would be a good idea if the kids got together and had a double wedding, they said if they had to buy TWO wedding presents they expected to go to TWO weddings. And when I explained to my sister we could save on flowers, music, food, drinks, etc., she said they could afford to put on their own wedding as they weren't in the poorhouse yet. What's wrong with my family? Or is it me? Next time I open my big mouth, I wish somebody would kick me hard.

MEANT WELL

DEAR MEANT: Your suggestion was motivated by your desire to get as much mileage out of a dollar as possible. So was their reaction. It must run in your family.

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to a wonderful man. He is a European and his first name is difficult, but not impossible, to pronounce. When I introduced him to my mother for the first time she didn't even attempt to pronounce his name. She simply said, "I shall call you John." He smiled, good-humoredly, hinking she was joking but she has been calling him "John" ever since. I know he feels hurt, and I don't blame him. I think it's insulting. Don't you think my mother should learn to pronounce my future husband's name? It has bothered me for several months.

BOTHERED

DEAR BOTHERED: Why the silent burn? Teach your mother to pronounce your fiance's name, and insist that she address him as such. (P.S. Why doesn't John speak for himself?)

DEAR ABBY: You should have told the Mason's wife, who felt left out because her husband wouldn't share the secrets of the lodge with her, that she and her husband should join the Order of the Eastern Star. It's not ALL secret.

Sincerely,
A MASON IN FORT WORTH

Man Keeps 3 Women,
One House; Loses Wife

LONDON (AP)—A man who lived with three women simultaneously in one bungalow was relieved of one of them — his wife—by the divorce court Friday.

The man was Donald M. Goodman, 37, and his many-splendored love life was, with some restraint, described by Judge Stanley Rees as "bizarre in the extreme."

The divorce decree was obtained by Swiss-born Mrs. Anita Goodman, 28, on cruelty and misconduct grounds. She testified that at one and the same time Goodman, a company director, maintained in the bungalow:

Herself, his legal wife (he had been divorced by two previous ones).

Miss Dorothy Busey, 24, by whom he had already had an illegitimate child.

Mrs. Gwynneth Spooner, 31, his secretary, who served him after office hours in other ways. Mrs. Goodman said Mrs. Spooner's father was tipped off to the odd quadrangle and persuaded his daughter to come home to mother.

"If anything could be more remarkable than what then happened I have never heard of it," was the judge's incredulous comment.

He said Goodman urged his wife and Miss Busey to coax Gwynneth back to the bungalow because he was unhappy without her. The two women agreed to try. They succeeded, and life went on as before, only more so.

At one point the bungalow contained Goodman, the three women, Miss Busey's son by Goodman, and one of his sons by one of his previous marriages —and Mrs. Goodman and Mrs. Spooner were pregnant.

ROSLYN, N. Y. (AP) — Housewives of this Long Island north shore community donned Indian costumes and re-enacted the Boston Tea Party against a proposal to build an incinerator adjacent to Hempstead Harbor.

The young matrons boarded a 28-foot tugboat, the Damtoot-in, to wage their demonstration.

Unlike the Bostonians, who dumped tea chests in a protest against taxation, the wives dumped garbage cans overboard as a symbol that an incinerator would destroy the harbor's beauty.

They had rivals, though. Advocates of the proposed project fired up an old, unused incinerator on the nearby shore and sent clouds of thick black smoke from its chimney. They said this showed what the area would be faced with if a modern incinerator were not built. A burner in a neighboring town now is used.

The tea party demonstrators were hand-sewn Indian costumes, feathers in their hair and carried placards bearing slogans such as "why spend $6,500,000?"—estimated cost of the project.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren
It's Inherited!

DEAR ABBY: I made what I thought was a good suggestion and it started a whole family fight. My daughter recently got a diamond ring and plans to be married this summer. My sister's daughter announced her engagement New Year's Eve, and she plans to be married this summer, too. When I mentioned to the other members of my family that I thought it would be a good idea if the kids got together and had a double wedding, they said if they had to buy TWO wedding presents they expected to go to TWO weddings. And when I explained to my sister we could save on flowers, music, food, drinks, etc., she said they could afford

Anniversary
Observed by OES Chapter

Kingston Chapter No. 411, OES, celebrated their 45th anniversary Tuesday evening at the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. William S. Rhoades, worthy matron, conducted the meeting during which she gave a history of Robert Morris, founder of the order. She compared the ritual of that time to the one used today and also gave a brief resume of the local chapter.

Miss Ora Rittenour was honored as a charter member and past worthy matrons and patrons were presented and given red carnations.

The election of Mrs. Elizabeth O. Bennett as president of District 23 was announced. Members agreed to make a donation of money to the OES Hospital Circle.

A mystery gift was presented to Mrs. William Meadows and February Birthdays were recognized.

Mrs. Jack Donahue accompanied by Mrs. Leslie Dearth and three selections, "O Master Let Me Walk with Thee", "Evening Prayer", and "I Believe."

Initiatory work will be given at the Mar. 10 meeting. All members are asked to wear something green or pay a fine.

Easter Bake
Sale Slated
By Circle 4

Mrs. Della Wertman, chairman, conducted the meeting. An invitation was read to attend a Silver Tea at Hedges Chapel Church Feb. 22.

Mrs. Arnold Moats gave devotions. Mrs. E. R. Howsman presented the program entitled, "Shall We Unite?" She read an article "The Blake Pike Proposal for a Union of Four Protestant Churches." A discussion followed.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Marvene Turner and Mrs. Della Wertman.

to put on their own wedding as they weren't in the poorhouse yet. What's wrong with my family? Or is it me? Next time I open my big mouth, I wish somebody would kick me hard.

MEANT WELL
DEAR MEANT: Your suggestion was motivated by your desire to get as much mileage out of a dollar as possible. So was their reaction. It must run in your family.

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to a wonderful man. He is a European and his first name is difficult, but not impossible, to pronounce. When I introduced him to my mother for the first time she didn't even attempt to pronounce his name. She simply said, "I shall call you John." He smiled, good-humoredly, hinking she was joking but she has been calling him "John" ever since. I know he feels hurt, and I don't blame him. I think it's insulting. Don't you think my mother should learn to pronounce my future husband's name? It has bothered me for several months.

BOTHERED
DEAR BOTHERED: Why the silent burn? Teach your mother to pronounce your fiancé's name, and insist that she address him as such. (P.S. Why doesn't John speak for himself?)

DEAR ABBY: You should have told the Mason's wife, who felt left out because her husband wouldn't share the secrets of the lodge with her, that she and her husband should join the Order of the Eastern Star. It's not ALL secret.

Sincerely,
A MASON IN FORT WORTH

Innocent Plea
In Baby Death

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Thirty-nine-year-old Mrs. Carolyn Davis of Fairborn pleaded innocent during a preliminary hearing in Fairborn Municipal Court Friday to a second-degree murder charge in connection with the death of her infant daughter.

She was bound to the Greene County Grand Jury and ordered held under $5,000 bond.

Authorities said Mrs. Davis told them she delivered the baby in the bathroom of her home Sunday afternoon and then wrapped the infant in paper and put her in a clothes hamper.

The woman, whose husband, James, has been in prison the past two years on an incest conviction, said she was afraid she would lose her other seven children if it was learned she had another baby.

Police found the body of the seven-pound infant when they investigated reports by neighbors of hearing a baby crying in Mrs. Davis' home.

Note to beginning cake decorators: food coloring for frostings may be had in liquid and paste form.

Man Keeps 3 Women,
One House; Loses Wife

LONDON (AP)—A man who lived with three women simultaneously in one bungalow was relieved of one of them — his wife—by the divorce court Friday.

The man was Donald M. Goodman, 37, and his many-splendored love life was, with some restraint, described by Judge Stanley Rees as "bizarre in the extreme."

The divorce decree was obtained by Swiss-born Mrs. Anita Goodman, 28, on cruelty and misconduct grounds. She testified that at one and the same time Goodman, a company director, maintained in the bungalow:

Herself, his legal wife (he had been divorced by two previous ones).

Miss Dorothy Bussey, 24, by whom he had already had an illegitimate child.

Mrs. Gwynneth Spooner, 31, his secretary, who served him after office hours in other ways.

Mrs. Goodman said Mrs. Spooner's father was tipped off to the odd quadrangle and persuaded his daughter to come home to mother.

"If anything could be more remarkable than what then happened I have never heard of it," was the judge's incredulous comment.

He said Goodman urged his wife and Miss Bussey to coax Gwynneth back to the bungalow because he was unhappy without her. The two women agreed to try. They succeeded, and life went on as before, only more so.

At one point the bungalow contained Goodman, the three women, Miss Bussey's son by Goodman, and one of his sons by one of his previous marriages —and Mrs. Goodman and Mrs. Spooner were pregnant.

After three years of this, Mrs. Goodman deduced the marriage was not a howling success. She filed for divorce, and got it.

Beatty Hopes To Set Mark

Frisco Meeting Slated Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jim Beatty's 1964 debut, the attempt of a prep sensation to defeat a pending world record holder and a serious bid for an indoor 880 record top tonight's program at the Golden Gate Invitational.

A crowd of more than 10,000 is expected at the Cow Palace to witness a stand-out meet.

Beatty, aiming for a spot on the U.S. Olympic team in the 5,000 meters, is opening his campaign with a one-mile run against NCAA champion Morgan Groth of Oregon State and 3:39 miller Bill Dotson.

The little veteran runner said earlier this week he thought he could come close to his indoor record of 3:58.6. But that was before Tom O'Hara of Chicago Loyola knocked the standard down to 3:56.6 Thursday in New York.

Beatty's portfolio still includes a flock of U.S. records but he's trying this year to add some of the major competitive victories which have escaped him.

The high schooler in his third major test of the winter is Gerry Lindgren, 115-pounder from Spokane, Wash. His target is Ron Clarke, 26-year-old Australian who bettered world outdoor records for six miles and 10,000 meters last December.

Lindgren polished off some of the nation's best preps in a 9:00 two-mile here in December. As if that clocking weren't amazing enough, he ripped off an 8:46.0 with a strong second-place finish at Los Angeles in January.

Observers are already seeing Lindgren as a possible member of the U.S. Olympic team in the 5,000 meters.

Clarke, having trouble adjusting to the sharp turns of indoor running, has hit only 8:42.6 and 8:43.8 in two losing efforts on his U.S. tour.

Almost the entire 880 field has a shot at the indoor record of 1:49.9, but Canadian Bill Crothers is the man expected to get it. He was ranked tops in the world last year and had won 19 straight indoor races until a fall cost him victory in Los Angeles last week.

He'll face America's best, Jim Dupree, and NCAA champion Norm Hoffman from Oregon State.

Tigers Edge Blue Lions In 66-64 Overtime Battle

By STEVE JONES

The Circleville High School basketball team picked up its second win of the season in a spectacular fashion last night, defeating Washington C. H. 66-64 in overtime.

Senior cager Tom Smith capped the Tigers' ragged but thrilling performance with a pair of foul shots with just four seconds to go in the overtime — providing the two point edge.

Delaware Hayes, Circleville's opponent in the Central District Tournament tonight, dropped a Central Buckeye League tilt last night to Grandview, 63-56.

John Ward of Delaware was the game's high scorer. He hit 12 field goals and a free throw for 25 points. It was Delaware's 13th loss in 14 league games.

The first half of the battle between the two ancient rivals in the South Central Ohio League was a rather dull affair.

The Tigers controlled the opening tip of the game. But for about 16 minutes that was all they controlled.

row's central district tournament battle. And this may well have been his mistake and the turning point.

The Circleville Red and Black began to close the margin. With 2:49 to go in the third quarter Tom Tootle tied the score at 39-39.

Court House pulled back in front, 41-39, but Tootle converted a foul shot with 47 seconds remaining in the period, and then Dave Bass gave the Tigers their first lead when he canned a long set shot. John Thomas added a charity toss and as the quarter ended the Tigers were on top, 43-41.

WASHINGTON C. H. could never regain the lead, in spite of the fact Powell returned his starting quintet. The score was tied three times in the fourth period and twice in the overtime before the Tigers got the final score.

The comparatively sparse but very vocal crowd began to sense the Tigers had victory within their grasp during the fourth quarter and added their support to the team.

More suspense than Tiger coach Don Neff cares for was packed into the last two minutes of the game and the overtime period.

With 2:20 on the clock, Smith scored the bucket that gave the Tigers a 59-54 lead. Then Gary Knisely put the Blue Lions within three points by scoring a field goal with 2:04 left.

Townsend came right back with a bucket when Bill Marting stole the ball and passed it to him near the bucket. The Blue Lions were down by one with 1:08 to go.

With 40 seconds remaining, Bob Purcell was fouled. He made the first of his one-and-one, but missed the second.

SMITH came down with the rebound. He was fouled as he tried to put the ball back up toward the bucket. He had two shots from the charity stripe and missed them both.

This time the Blue Lions came down with the ball. They called time out to set up a scoring play. Townsend was apparently elected to take the shot when play was resumed, and with 23 seconds to go he tied the score.

Neither team could tally although Dave Bass missed a lay-up near the basket and Tom Smith's rebound tip was wide of its mark in the closing seconds.

The first bucket in the overtime came when Ron Seward grabbed a rebound and fed Dave Bass on a fast break.

The Blue Lions almost immediately retaliated with a bucket by Knisely. Then Bass drove down the floor, pulled a defensive man from the basket leaving Bob Purcell wide open right under the basket and Circleville was on top again as a result of the perfect teamwork between the two senior Tigers.

And again the Blue Lions bounced back. This time it was Steve Rhoades scoring on a rebound.

IN THOSE final hectic seconds, Purcell drove in and canned a shot, but the officials ruled he had palmed the ball, and would not allow the basket. The Blue Lions came down the floor, shot and missed. In the scramble for the ball Smith was fouled.

By the time anybody heard the officials' whistle, the scoreboard clock showed the game was over. However, the officials said the infraction was committed with four seconds to go. The clock was adjusted.

Smith cannot both attempt and the game was won.

Purcell intercepted a last ditch pass by the Blue Lions to stop a desperation shot.

The Circleville scoring was paced by John Thomas with 18 points. Smith scored 13. Knisely tallied 14 for the losers to trail Townsend by two.

And tomorrow, Circleville will go to the Central District Tournament at Upper Arlington with a winning feeling. The Tigers meet Delaware Hayes at 8:30 p. m.

THE RESERVE game was nearly as exciting as the varsity tilt.

Jim Shaw's charges led by as much as 15 points in the third quarter, then watched the Blue Lion jayvee unit tie the game at 39-39 with just 1:24 to go.

But the final score was 44-39 with Circleville on top. Tim Stonerocks 22 points were high for the Tiger reserves. Jim Diltz scored nine, Howard Dade eight, Dave Iery four and Jeff Monroe 1. Kelley paced the losers with 10.

Circleville has one SCO League game remaining. A home tilt with Franklin Heights will be rescheduled when both teams finish tournament play.

Beatty Hopes To Set Mark

Frisco Meeting Slated Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jim Beatty's 1964 debut, the attempt of a prep sensation to defeat a pending world record holder and a serious bid for an indoor 880 record tonight's program at the Golden Gate Invitational.

A crowd of more than 10,000 is expected at the Cow Palace to witness a stand-out meet.

Beatty, aiming for a spot on the U.S. Olympic team in the 5,000 meters, is opening his campaign with a one-mile run against NCAA champion Morgan Groth of Oregon State and 3:59 miler Bill Dotson.

The little veteran runner said earlier this week he thought he could come close to his indoor record of 3:58.6. But that was before Tom O'Hara of Chicago Loyola knocked the standard down to 3:56.6 Thursday in New York.

Beatty's portfolio still includes a flock of U.S. records but he's trying this year to add some of the major competitive victories which have escaped him.

The high schooler in his third major test of the winter is Gerry Lindgren, 115-pounder from Spokane, Wash. His target is Ron Clarke, 26-year-old Australian who bettered world outdoor records for six miles and 10,000 meters last December.

Lindgren polished off some of the nation's best preps in a 9:00 two-mile here in December. As if that clocking weren't amazing enough, he ripped off an 8:46.0 with a strong second-place finish at Los Angeles in January.

Observers are already seeing Lindgren as a possible member of the U.S. Olympic team in the 5,000 meters.

Clarke, having trouble adjusting to the sharp turns of indoor running, has hit only 8:42.6 and 8:43.8 in two losing efforts on his U.S. tour.

Almost the entire 880 field has a shot at the indoor record of 1:49.9, but Canadian Bill Crothers is the man expected to get it. He was ranked tops in the world last year and had won 19 straight indoor races until a fall cost him victory in Los Angeles last week.

He'll face America's best, Jim Dupree, and NCAA champion Norm Hoffman from Oregon State.

Tigers Edge Blue Lions In 66-64 Overtime Battle

By STEVE JONES

The Circleville High School basketball team picked up its second win of the season in a spectacular fashion last night, defeating Washington C. H. 66-64 in overtime.

Senior cager Tom Smith capped the Tigers' ragged but thrilling performance with a pair of foul shots with just four seconds to go in the overtime — providing the two point edge.

Delaware Hayes, Circleville's opponent in the Central District Tournament tonight, dropped a Central Buckeye League tilt last night to Grandview, 63-56.

John Ward of Delaware was the game's high scorer. He hit 12 field goals and a free throw for 25 points. It was Delaware's 13th loss in 14 league games.

The first half of the battle between the two ancient rivals in the South Central Ohio League was a rather dull affair.

The Tigers controlled the opening tip of the game. But for a bout 16 minutes that was all they controlled.

THE VISITORS came up with a total of 30 rebounds in the first half and Circleville cleared 14 off the boards. The Blue Lions, however, evened the game by committing 11 first half turnovers compared to seven for the Tigers. The half-time score was 30-26 in favor of WCH.

Washington C. H. had led all the way, scoring the opening bucket with just 45 seconds gone. Tom Townsend arched a long set shot through the rim for the first two of his 16 points.

Although the Blue Lions dominated almost every phase of the opening quarter, they led only 16-11 at the end of the first eight minutes of play.

At the onset of the second half, the Blue Lions built up a six-point edge. Their coach, John Powell, pulled his starting unit in favor of the reserves at this point, hoping to save his players for tomorrow's central district tournament battle. And this may well have been his mistake and the turning point.

The Circleville Red and Black began to close the margin. With 2:49 to go in the third quarter Tom Tootle tied the score at 39-39.

Court House pulled back in front, 41-39, but Tootle converted a foul shot with 47 seconds remaining in the period, and then Dave Bass gave the Tigers their first lead when he canned a long set shot. John Thomas added a charity toss and as the quarter ended the Tigers were on top, 43-41.

WASHINGTON C. H. could never regain the lead, in spite of the fact Powell returned his starting quintet. The score was tied three times in the fourth period and twice in the overtime before the Tigers got the final score.

The comparatively sparse but very vocal crowd began to sense the Tigers had victory within their grasp during the fourth quarter and added their support to the team.

More suspense than Tiger coach Don Neff cares for was packed into the last two minutes of the game and the overtime period.

With 2:20 on the clock, Smith scored the bucket that gave the Tigers a 59-54 lead. Then Gary Knisely put the Blue Lions within three points by scoring a field goal with 2:04 left.

Townsend came right back with a bucket when Bill Marting stole the ball and passed it to him near the bucket. The Blue Lions were down by one with 1:08 to go.

With 40 seconds remaining, Bob Purcell was fouled. He made the first of his one-and-one, but missed the second.

SMITH came down with the rebound. He was fouled as he tried to put the ball back up toward the bucket. He had two shots from the charity stripe and missed them both.

This time the Blue Lions came down with the ball. They called time out to set up a scoring play. Townsend was apparently elected to take the shot when play was resumed, and with 23 seconds to go he tied the score.

Neither team could tally although Dave Bass missed a lay-up near the basket and Tom Smith's rebound tip was wide of its mark in the closing seconds.

The first bucket in the overtime came when Ron Seward grabbed a rebound and fed Dave Bass on a fast break.

The Blue Lions almost immediately retaliated with a bucket by Knisely. Then Bass drove down the floor, pulled a defensive man from the basket leaving Bob Purcell wide open right under the basket and Circleville was on top again as a result of the perfect teamwork between the two senior Tigers.

And again the Blue Lions bounced back. This time it was Steve Rhoades scoring on a rebound.

IN THOSE final hectic seconds, Purcell drove in and canned a shot, but the officials ruled he had palmed the ball, and would not allow the basket. The Blue Lions came down the floor, shot and missed. In the scramble for the ball Smith was fouled.

By the time anybody heard the officials' whistle, the scoreboard clock showed the game was over. However, the officials said the infraction was committed with four seconds to go. The clock was adjusted.

Smith canned both attempts and the game was won.

Purcell intercepted a last ditch pass by the Blue Lions to stop a desperation shot.

The Circleville scoring was paced by John Thomas with 18 points. Smith scored 13. Knisely tallied 14 for the losers to trail Townsend by two.

And tomorrow, Circleville will go to the Central District Tournament at Upper Arlington with a winning feeling. The Tigers meet Delaware Hayes at 8:30 p. m.

THE RESERVE game was nearly as exciting as the varsity tilt.

Jim Shaw's charges led by as much as 15 points in the third quarter, then watched the Blue Lion jayvee unit tie the game at 39-39 with just 1:24 to go.

But the final score was 44-39 with Circleville on top. Tim Stonerocks 22 points were high for the Tiger reserves. Jim Diltz scored nine, Howard Dade eight, Dave Iery four and Jeff Monroe 1. Kelley paced the losers with 10.

Circleville has one SCO League game remaining. A home tilt with Franklin Heights will be rescheduled when both teams finish tournament play.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved Wife, Mother, Grandmother and Great-Grandmother, who passed away four years ago, February 15, 1960.
Remembrance is a golden chain,
Death tries to break all in vain;
To love, to love, and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of ones heart
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never—
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
Sadly missed by: Husband, William Arledge, and children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved Wife, Mother, Grandmother and Great-Grandmother, who passed away four years ago, February 15, 1960.
Remembrance is a golden chain. Death tries to break all in vain. To have, to love, and then to part is the greatest sorrow of ones heart. The years may wipe out many things, but this they wipe out never—The memory of those happy days. When we were all together. Sadly missed by: Husband, William A. Riedel, and children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Wildcat Five Defeated by Berne Union

The Jackson Wildcats dropped their last regular season contest, 79-65, as they hosted Berne Union last night.

Jackson, which drew a bye in the Central District tournament cage drawings, will play the winner of the Monroe-Berne Union clash at the Teays Valley sectional next Saturday. This brings about the possibility of another contest between the two squads.

The Wildcats dropped behind early in the game and never headed or threatened the Berne Union charges. Down by 20-10 after the first period, Jackson could do no better than a 42-18 halftime showing.

Berne Union strengthened its lead to 30 points, 63-34, at the end of three quarters before relaxing their tenacious man-to-man defense.

GROVES paced the Berne Union winning effort with 22 points.

Ed Martindale was high for Jackson with 14 counters. Mowery and List each carded 12 for the Wildcats.

Jackson copped the reserve title for its 17th victory in 19 tries with a 42-35 rout of the Berne Union yearlings.

Meredith O'Dell paced the win with 17 points. Brad Thompson followed him with 11 markers.

Darby Cagers Handed Loss By Laurelville

The Darby Trojans were trounced last night by host school Laurelville in a 77-44 cage game.

It was the Trojan's second loss to the Hocking County Wildcats. John Young paced the winners with a 22-point outburst on six field goals and 10 charity tosses.

The Trojans stayed in the game until halftime. The score was 16-15 at the end of the first period and 36-27 at intermission.

The Wildcats began the third quarter with a burst of good outside shooting and built up a 15-34 three quarter mark.

DANNY BOWEN gained scoring honors with a 25-point production coming on seven field goals and 11 charity tosses. Dave Rowland hit two field goals and six foul shots for ten points.

The Trojans completed their regular season with a 4-12 record. Saturday they meet Wilamport at 3 p. m. in the sectional of the Central District tournament at Teays Valley.

The Laurelville reserves made it a perfect night for the host school with a 52-31 verdict over the younger Trojans.

Royals Set For Joust In Gotham

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Cincinnati Royals, hottest team in the National Basketball Association, take their quest for the Eastern Division lead into one of their favorite playgrounds tonight, New York's Madison Square Garden.

The Royals, sparked by the all-around brilliance of Oscar Robertson, have a nine-game winning string going into the game with the hapless New York Knicks. It's the Knicks home court, but Cincinnati has a 5-1 record in the Garden this season.

The Royals rolled to their ninth straight Friday, clipping the Knicks 126-114 in Cincinnati and trimming idle Boston's Eastern leading margin to two games.

Philadelphia fought off Detroit 130-123 in the only other game. Robertson, as usual, was the big gun for the Royals. He scored 29 points and contributed 21 assists, high for the league this year.

The game never was in doubt after the Royals took the lead in the opening moments and maintained a healthy margin the rest of the way.

The home - standing 76ers whipped out to a 92-67 lead late in the third quarter, then had to withstand a furious rally by the Pistons who closed within six points with three minutes left only to run out of steam.

Hal Greer had 29 points, Paul Neuman 25 and Chet Walker 23 for Philadelphia, while Bailey Howell had 27 for the Pistons.

Jucker Returning To Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Coach Ed Jucker is scheduled to arrive home from Denton, Tex., at 7:30 tonight—but he won't be allowed to see his Bearcats tangle with Wichita in Missouri Valley Conference basketball.

Jucker was stricken last weekend in Denton with appendicitis and was operated on Sunday. He has been in the hospital since. The attack came after the Bearcats defeated North Texas State, 78-68.

Meanwhile, Tay Baker has been handling the coaching chores. Doctors said Jucker would probably get too excited if they let him attend tonight's game.

NCAA Cage Picture Is Clearing Up

League Champs Emerging as Season Fades

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The picture is getting a bit clearer for next month's NCAA postseason tournament that determines the national collegiate basketball champion.

The first to practically clinch a berth in the 25-team field is the nation's top-ranked team, UCLA. The unbeaten Bruins walloped Washington 73-58 Friday night for their 20th straight and to all intents assured themselves of the Big Six title which carries with it an automatic placing in the NCAA championship tourney.

Subject to revision because of possible surprises in the closing weeks of the regular season, the following appear to have the best chance of filling the remaining berths:

Atlantic Coast—Duke. Mid Atlantic—LaSalle or Temple. Yankee—Connecticut. Southern—Davidson or West Virginia. Ivy—Princeton or Yale. Mid American—Ohio U. or Miami of Ohio. Ohio Valley — East Tennessee. Southeastern — Kentucky or Georgia Tech. Big Ten—Michigan or Ohio State. Southwest—Texas A&M or Texas Tech. Western Athletic—Utah or New Mexico. Missouri Valley—Drake or Wichita. Big Eight—Oklahoma State or Kansas State. West Coast Athletic—San Francisco.

Chicago Loyola, the national champions, probably will get an at-large berth despite five defeats so far. Oregon State, Texas Western, DePaul, Oklahoma City, Villanova, Creighton, Seattle, Utah State and NYU are other prominent independents doubtless under consideration.

The NIT, the other major postseason tourney, probably will first invite Providence, the 1963 winner, which boasts a 12-game winning streak. St. John's N.Y., St. Bonaventure, Memphis State, Iona and Miami, Fla. are among those likely being considered to fill the other 11 posts.

UCLA's speed and the combined 37 points by Gail Goodrich and Walt Hazzard were too much for the outclassed Washington Huskies.

Oregon State, ninth-ranked in The Associated Press Poll, defeated Seattle 76-72 and Arizona State romped against Brigham Young 110-85 in other Friday night games.

Princeton, Yale, Penn and Cornell continued in a four-way tie for first in the Ivy League. Princeton trampled Dartmouth, 100-46, Yale downed Columbia, 76-63, Penn defeated Harvard, 60-49 and Cornell took Brown, 90-77.

Coming Guild Project One Of Many Beneficial Events

LOBBY GIFT SHOP — Mrs. Richard Moore, Knollwood Village, is pictured here in the lobby gift shop at Berger Hospital, one of the many projects sponsored by the hospital's guilds. Mrs. Moore is a member of the newly organized Gift Shop Guild. Proceeds from the shop, which is operated daily during visiting hours by volunteer workers, go towards purchase of equipment and supplies for the city-county hospital.

Latest project of the General Guilds of Berger Hospital, the "High Fever Follies", is another in a long line of accomplishments undertaken by the group since its organization in 1950. It is scheduled for Mar. 20-21 in the high school auditorium.

Last year the Gift Shop, located in the hospital lobby, was a gift of the General Guild. All proceeds of this shop are used for the benefit of the hospital and it is operated strictly by volunteer help. It has been in operation for about 1½ years and has netted about $700.

The shop opened in October 1962 following a period of study by a committee of other similar gift shops in hospitals. The display cases were donated or loaned by the J. C. Penney Co. and William Crist.

Committee in charge of this study and the opening of the shop was composed of Mrs. David Yates, Mrs. George Young, Mrs. John Griffith, Mrs. Walter Emling, Mrs. Kenneth Luna and Mrs. Victor Rodgers.

IN 1953 the new wing was added to the hospital. The Guilds were asked at that time to help solicit funds for the furnishing of this addition.

Mrs. John Eshelman, then president of the General Guild, appointed a committee composed of Mrs. Joe Bell, Mrs. Virgil Cress, Mrs. Ruth Athey and Mrs. Lincoln Mader to organize the group for this door to door campaign. Hospital Sunday was designated and the town and county were divided into sections for this solicitation. Following the drive a total of $28,963.50 was reported by Guild members as having been donated on that day.

A committee then donated their time toward the selection of paint and paper to be used in the various rooms. This committee was composed of Mrs. William Radcliff, Mrs. Henry Schroeder, Mrs. Harry Heffner and Mrs. Royal Hamman.

A short history of the Guilds would begin in 1950. Prior to that time, Berger Hospital was a City Hospital, governed by the

Coming Guild Project One Of Many Beneficial Events

LOBBY GIFT SHOP — Mrs. Richard Moore, Knollwood Village, is pictured here in the lobby gift shop at Berger Hospital, one of the many projects sponsored by the hospital's guilds. Mrs. Moore is a member of the newly organized Gift Shop Guild. Proceeds from the shop, which is operated daily during visiting hours by volunteer workers, go towards purchase of equipment and supplies for the city-county hospital.

Latest project of the General Guilds of Berger Hospital, the "High Fever Follies", is another in a long line of accomplishments undertaken by the group since its organization in 1950. It is scheduled for Mar. 20-21 in the high school auditorium.

Last year the GEM Shop, located in the hospital lobby, was a gift of the General Guild. All proceeds of this shop are used for the benefit of the hospital and it is operated strictly by volunteer help. It has been in operation for about 1½ years and has netted about $700.

The shop opened in October 1962 following a period of study by a committee of other similar gift shops in hospitals. The display cases were donated or loaned by the J. C. Penney Co. and William Crist.

Committee in charge of this study and the opening of the shop was composed of Mrs. David Yates, Mrs. George Young, Mrs. John Griffith, Mrs. Walter Emiling, Mrs. Kenneth Luna and Mrs. Victor Rodgers.

IN 1953 the new wing was added to the hospital. The Guilds were asked at that time to help solicit funds for the furnishing of this addition.

Mrs. John Eshelman, then president of the General Guild, appointed a committee composed of Mrs. Joe Bell, Mrs. Virgil Cress, Mrs. Ruth Athey and Mrs. Lincoln Mader to organize the group for this door to door campaign. Hospital Sunday was designated and the town and county were divided into sections for this solicitation. Following the drive a total of $28,963.50 was reported by Guild members as having been donated on that day.

A committee then donated their time toward the selection of paint and paper to be used in the various rooms. This committee was composed of Mrs. William Radcliff, Mrs. Henry Schroeder, Mrs. Harry Heffner and Mrs. Royal Hamman.

A short history of the Guilds would begin in 1950. Prior to that time, Berger Hospital was a City Hospital, governed by the

Bedford Girl Back Home After Surgery

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mary Jane Altomondo was back home today and in good spirits despite the loss of a leg that was removed to stop the spread of cancer.

"I love being home," said the 16-year-old Bedford High School junior. "I was homesick. I was so far away."

She insisted that loss of the leg does not bother her now. "If there wasn't any use for it, it's just as well it's gone. I already feel as though I've been on one leg all my life."

Mary Jane was brought home by her mother Thursday night from Memorial Hospital in New York. Her mother, Mrs. John Altomondo, said the attractive, dark-haired youngster will have to go back to New York this summer to be fitted for an artificial limb. Mary Jane will not return to school until next fall.

She underwent an operation Jan. 27 for removal of the right leg and hip. At Memorial Hospital a spokesman said she had made a remarkably fast recovery and had learned quickly to use her crutches.
